shops for the three divisions of the Illinois Central Railroad are located here, giving steady employment to a large number of mechanics and laborers.

ways as much as to insure cheap prices.

It is very probable that the solid and rapid growth of Paducah is due almost entirely to the city's splendid railroad facilities. Our three rivers give the city a large tributary territory and makes the city of necessity the distributing point for a large part of three states. But it is particularly the Illinois Central railroad that now makes this city a favored one among Southern manufacturing towns; a desirable location for progressive mills and the most progressive wholesale city of its size in the United States. The Illinois Central is to Paducah what the Louisville and Nashville is to the city of Louisville.

The Illinois Central has greatly enlarged the shops, so that now they are second only to those at Chicago on the great Illinois Central system. The shops are the largest in the world that road has built the passenger cars along the river front, and now comes the well-defined rumor that it may locate here a large marine ways for the repairing of the floating stock. Every member of the Illinois Central shops says that it appreciates the importance and the possibilities of the city of Paducah. The fact of the decreasing of the payroll in this city, as some cause, is justly feared at one time, the railroad has steadily increased it; so that the monthly disbursements here are of the utmost importance to our merchants, and are really the life of the city.

But it is not alone in the line of

The officials of the railroad also offer to our merchants and to our manufacturing plants every inducement that can be offered consistently to investors desiring to locate plants here. The I. C. has extended inducements that in more than one instance has turned the scale in favor of Paducah's factory. In addition to the "Paducah" factor, list in the preceding year are evidence of this fact. To wit: owners already here, the I. C. has also been very liberal, especially in this case in the matter of putting in site tracks. The river front extensions will enable the putting in of more side tracks which will be an additional advantage to the shippers in this city.

simply because of the apparent fact that that road is doing all in its power to build up the city and to foster its industries. And in so doing these business men have not misplaced their confidence. This loyalty of the Illinois Central to Paducah, and the splendid facilities that it is offering the shippers amply account for the partiality of Paducah towards that system.

The soil and climate of Western Kentucky are particularly adapted to the raising of fruits and vegetables.

The land is well watered, being intersected by numerous small streams. skirted by a heavy growth of oak, hickory, ash, walnut, and other valuable building timber. Year after year this section of Kentucky yields to the patient tillage of husbandry magnificent returns in corn and abundant returns in cereal products. Many hundreds of acres are still carpeted with the luxuriant and tender blue grass, and stock raising is numbered among the leading industries.

Paducah has grown wonderfully within the past few years, but its growth was not the rapid, unnatural, fictitious growth of a "boom town." Its growth has been gradual and permanent.

As a place of residence, or business, Paducah presents a location unexcelled by any other city of its size in the United States.

tively cheap. The inhabitants of both city and county are cultivated, courteous and hospitable, with a cordial welcome to strangers and immigrants. To enter rising tradesmen judicious capitalists and industrious farmers, this section of Kentucky offers fine opportunities.

MOTORMAN ASSAULTED.

Three Men Badly Use Motorman George Alexander.
—The Men Ran
The Car.

Beaten Almost Into Insensibility
With a Switch Key—Dick Wall's Experience With A Ghost

Motorman George Alexander, of the Third street division, Paducah street railroad, is at his home at 1215 Broadway, suffering from a cowardly assault made on him last night about 10 o'clock near Third and Norton streets. He is badly used up, and has numerous cuts and bruises on his person.

From his statement three men boarded the car and refused to pay fare, claiming they had paid it while going down.

He stopped the car, and the men refused to get off. They attempted to put the motorman off and he used his switch key on one of them, but the improvised weapon they wrested from him, using it with telling effect on his head. In their frenzied brutality they came near killing him. They then took charge of the car, and would have likely carried it to the end of the line, if not further, had not the power been shut off. Mr. Alexander gave a description of the men to Chief Barker, and is of the opinion that they are employed on the Laybe fleet.

Today the motorman was very sore, and could not work.

This forenoon Judge Sanders issued warrants against Wm. Bowman, George Hartly and Omar Baugh, three men employed on the Laybe fleet above the city, charging them with maliciously assaulting Motorman Alexander.

Officers Jones and Orr, and Merichau Police Officer Fowler, before noon, on the tug "Koko" for the dock, to arrest the accused.

The victim was reported this afternoon as suffering great pain. He has been spitting blood at intervals. The assault was most distasteful, and the wonder is the motorman was not killed. There was a man and a boy aboard the car, and the boy offered to help if the man would and was shot in the head. He refused to lend the motorman any assistance in defending himself against the three cowards.

The officers returned from the fleet this afternoon about 2 o'clock, with out the men. They found about 50 boats there, and say it would have been impossible for a dozen men to have found the accused in a week.

The three men were there all the morning, but disappeared soon after the officers got there.

Whenever there is any excitement about Motorman Dick Wall can be counted upon to be there. Last night, however, he had an experience that sent the cold chills all up and down his spinal column. The motorman is on the Trimble street line, and the end of his run is at Oak Grove. Last night, a trip of two or three miles to go to a new something while near the track. It was near the cemetery and he passed it the first time, but the next time, stopped the car and got off. He cautiously approached the prostrate form in white, reached out for it, but it suddenly slid out of his grasp and vanished. He jumped on the car and was soon speeding away. What it was in his mind he cannot explain.

BAD PEOPLE

Who Figured in the Police Court This Morning.

Young Man Fined and Placed Under a P. & C. Bond.

Louis Train, colored, watchman at Seaman's was arrested this morning on a charge of drawing a pistol on his wife, Dora, and whipping her. He denies the charge, and the case was continued until tomorrow on account of the absence of witnesses.

Marion Mitchell, a fair damsel of the neighborhood, had her frail beauty marred by the unmistakable signs of a "night of it." She pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs for a plain drunk, although it is said she was a very extraordinary looking child.

Sam West and George Dixon, colored, and fast black, were charged with being guilty. They both pleaded guilty, but each claimed the other followed him around and forced him to fight. West was fined $10 and costs and Dixon $5 and costs.

A young man was fined $20 and costs for striking a West Court street girl while drunk. She said she was afraid of him, and asked that he be put under a peace bond. Judge Sanders ordered him placed under a $100 peace bond.

Now an Irate Husband is on His Trail.

Sensational Occurrence in the First Ward.

Officer Fred Hoyer is investigating a rather sensational case, but as yet he has not succeeded in unraveling the mystery.

A story of two ago a resident of the First ward was eating dinner when some one rapped on the front door. He went to respond, and found a stranger. The latter asked if her husband was at home, and she replied that he was, but was eating dinner and asked if he desired to see him.

The man, who seemed to be drinking, waited a moment and then exclaimed: "No, it's you I want to see." He then drew a pistol. The frightened woman screamed the door in his face and ran back to her husband, but the man was gone when she later returned with a pistol.

The diligent husband claims that he has ascertained the man is a new comer from Missouri, named Bradley, but is unable to determine any thing further.

IMMORALITY CHARGE.

Against Mac McAlpin, a Fireman.—The Ditcher Case Again.

Police Officer Gray has in his possession a warrant against Mac McAlpin, a young colored fireman, charging him with immorality.

The warrant was issued Monday when Mrs. L. A. Ditcher was acquitted before Judge Tully of the charge of abandoning her babe. She informed the court that McAlpin was her father, and County Judge Tully issued the warrant against him.

It is said he is now running on the Grand division.

The county officers had kept the warrant a secret until it was displayed at the city hall this morning.
